REAL CONFLICT COACHING[™] FUNDAMENTALS

BECOME A PROFESSIONAL CONFLICT COACH 4 DAY WORKSHOP

This highly-interactive and skills-focused course leads to accreditation by Conflict Coaching International.

Conflict coaching involves a conflict specialist providing one-on-one support to a person to enable them to constructively deal with conflict. Support may be provided in relation to a specific conflict, or to assist a person to develop their conflict management skills generally.

Who should attend?

- Conflict resolution professionals who wish to add conflict coaching to their range of services.
- Other coaches, e.g. business coaches, life coaches, and personal coaches who would like to extend their competency in working with clients in conflict.
- Executives and managers who wish to develop conflict resolution and coaching skills.
- Lawyers seeking expertise in conflict coaching.
- Teachers and other education professionals seeking to manage conflict in learning and research environments.
- Anyone with an interest in enhancing their capacity to deal with conflict more effectively.

Conflict can occur in any number of situations including within our private sphere of family and friends as well as professional contexts and the workplace.

According to a global survey, the majority of employees (85%) have to deal with conflict to some degree and 29% do so "always" or "frequently" [...] Half of the HR workers questioned (51%) spend between one and five hours a week managing disagreements and employees spend on average 2.1 hours a week dealing with conflict with many respondents indicating they spend significantly more time on conflict situations.'

Yet despite the significant time investment we make in disagreements and disputes, many of us are ill-equipped to engage with conflict constructively and confidently.

This is where conflict coaches can help.

Conflict coaches assist clients to develop the 5 Cs:

CLARITY: Gain clarity about the conflict situation.

COMPREHENSION: Understand their own, and the other person's, needs and goals.

CHOICES: Identify and evaluate their choices for moving forward.

CONFIDENCE: Develop confidence about managing conflict and achieving their goals.

COMPETENCE: Increase their conflict management skills so that they can constructively engage in the conflict.

INSTRUCTOR

Associate Professor
Samantha Hardy

(JCU Australia)

Dr Samantha Hardy has been described as both a practical thinker and a thinking practitioner.

Sam has advanced postgraduate qualifications including a PhD in conflict resolution as well as many years of international experience as a conflict resolution practitioner.

In addition to offering conflict coaching and mediation services, Sam is also a well-known trainer, university educator and writer in the field of conflict management and resolution.

Sam has been mediating and conflict coaching since 1997. She practices primarily in the workplace context, and in the university sector.

Sam is a Nationally Accredited Mediator under the Australian Standards and a Certified Transformative Mediator by the US Institute of Conflict Transformation.

She is an experienced conflict coach and the founder of the REAL Conflict Coaching System.

It is based on a set of REAL values.

REFLECTION

REAL conflict coaching encourages and assists people to develop the capacity to engage in reflective practice in their future conflict interactions, for the purpose of reflective learning and the development of artistry.

ARTISTRY

REAL conflict coaching builds peoples' capacity to engage in future conflict at the level of artistry. It encourages and supports individuals to go beyond the merely satisfactory, and to achieve excellence.

ENGAGEMENT

REAL conflict coaching supports people to constructively engage with, rather than avoid, conflict. REAL conflict coaches assist people to find the right level of depth at which to engage, and to sustain that engagement in the long term if necessary.

LEARNING

REAL conflict coaching is grounded strongly in principles of adult learning. It supports people to engage in lifelong reflective learning.
